COL. BARNETT IS TAKEN BY DEATH

Prominent Citizen and Party Leader.

EDITOR HARTFORD REPUBLICAN

And Was For Eight Years
Collector Of Customs
At Louisville.

A BRIEF REVIEW OF HIS LIFE

It was sad news, indeed, which came to Hartford by telegram shortly after the noon hour Wednesday, announcing that Col. C. M. Barnett, editor and proprietor of the Hartford Republican, had expired a short time before at the Fort Hospital in Nashville, Tenn., where he had gone for treatment a few weeks ago. His terrenal spirit which it is their province to maintain. He had attained a high rank in Masonry.

Col. Cicero Maxwell Barnett was born in Ohio county, north of Hartford, June 4, 1864, and was therefore fifty-one and a-half years old at the time of his death. His father was Joe C. Barnett and his mother Frances D. Bennett. He was married February 23, 1887, to Alice Dee Bennett. He is survived by his wife and three children—Hattie, (Mrs. E. W. Cooper), Allison and Estill.

Besides his immediate family, Col. Barnett is survived by a brother, George Barnett, who resides in California, and two sisters, Mrs. Wood Tinsley, and Mrs. Fannie Taylor, both of Hartford, also survive. He also leaves quite an extensive relationship by lineage.

One of his brothers, Andrew Barnett, fought in the Union army and was killed by a band of guerrillas while at home on a furlough. Another brother, William B. Barnett, died in Ohio ten years ago. Both of these brothers were Methodist ministers.

While yet a farm boy he sought a good education and he attended school at College Hill, Ky., at Depauw University, at Greencastle, and a good forensic speaker and his talents along this line won him much commendation. He was a man of high ideals and definite ideas and possessed the ability to properly express them. He will be missed in Hartford and Ohio county as a good citizen, a conscientious worker in the field of human endeavor, and a man whose friendship was ever loyal and true.

The last mortal remains of Col. Barnett arrived here on the 6:15 P. M. H. & E. train Thursday evening. There was a large and sad-hearted crowd at the depot on this occasion. On account of the temporary absence of Col. Barnett's pastor, Rev. Napier, the funeral did not occur until Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. The Methodist church was crowded with friends of Col. Barnett. The services were conducted by Rev. Napier, assisted by Rev. R. D. Bennett. The pastor delivered a heartfelt and touching discourse.

The honorary pallbearers were: C. E. Smith, Judge John B. Wilson, M. L. Heavrin, A. D. Kirk, F. L. Felix and Heber Matthews. The active pallbearers were: E. G. Barrass, Dr. J. R. Pirtle, Hooker Williams, James Lyons, E. Crabtree and E. P. Moore.

There was a wealth of flowers to add their mute beauty to the scene of death. Beautiful floral emblems were contributed by Rough River Lodge No. 110 K. of P., Hartford Lodge No. 675 F. & A. M., Hartford Chapter No. 84 O. E. S., County Officials and Hartford Bar, Teachers and Students of Hartford College, Bible Class of the M. E. Church, Nurses of Fort Hospital at Nashville; Judge and Mrs. R. W. Slack, Mrs. N. E. Cook, Mrs. Bettie Saunders, Owensboro; James P. Thomas, Clay Miller, Louisville; Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Goding, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. King, Joe L. Cooper, Mrs. Palmer, Club Girls, Nashville; J. Ney Foster, Philipp, Miss.; Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hoover, W. S. Tinsley and family, Hartford.

Following services at the church, interment was at Oakwood Cemetery.

MARS NOT INHABITED, ASTRONOMER CONTENTS

Washington, Jan. 1.—Taking a fling at Prof. Lowell's Martian Canal theory, Dr. John A. Brashear, a Pittsburg astronomer, to-day said at a sectional meeting of the Pan-American Scientific Congress, that if any planet was inhabited it was Venus, and not Mars.

Holding that the rarity of the atmosphere made Mars uninhabitable, Brashear said the atmosphere of Venus was as dense now as that of the earth in prehistoric times, when life in all forms was richest.

"If it is true that the so-called canals of Mars are 275,000 miles long they must be 10 miles wide and 12 deep," said Brashear. "Since our little ditch at Panama cost some $325,000,000, what a bank account those Martians must have, according to the theory."

A NEW CIRCUIT JUDGE NOW TAKES THE BENCH

Criminal court was convened at Owensboro Monday morning by the new Circuit Judge, Hon. R. W. Slack. This will be Judge Slack's first term of court.

At the time of swearing in Judge T. F. Birkhead, who retired Monday, the first term of court in the district was convened at Calhoun, and it was there that Judge Birkhead was sworn in as judge of the Sixth Judicial district. Since the change of time for holding the terms, Daviess county got the "swearing in" privilege. A large number of friends, in addition to the bar, witnessed the ceremony.

At the same time Mr. Claude Smith, of Hartford, succeeded Mr. Ben D. Ringo as Commonwealth's Attorney.

The docket was pretty well cleared of smaller prosecutions by Judge Birkhead at the special term recently held by him. The major cases of murder, serious cutting incidents and weightier matters were not tried. The docket for the term is light. There are two murder prosecutions that will be called and two others of major importance that will require more than a day to try.

Rather Warm!

Lima, O., Dec. 30.—Seymour Rathburn, 15 years old, put cayenne pepper in his boots to-day to keep his feet warm and nearly burned them off. His condition is serious. He said other boys advised him to use this treatment to warm his feet.

AUSTRIA'S REPLY MEETS DEMANDS

Of Washington In the Ancona Case.

ASSURANCES FOR THE FUTURE

Held By Washington More Satisfactory Than Those Of Germany.

DANGER OF RUPTURE PASSED

Washington, Jan. 1.—Austria's reply to the Ancona note not only meets the cardinal points of the American demands, but gives assurances for the future, which are considered more satisfactory in their extent than those which were given by Germany.

The full American official view will not be known until after President Wilson has studied the Austrian reply, which was received from Ambassador Penfield and was immediately dispatched to Hot Springs by a White House messenger.

It may be stated authoritatively, nevertheless, that danger of a rupture of diplomatic relations has passed, and the controversy now enters the same stage as the Lusitania negotiations with Germany, on even a more favorable basis.

Austria in the Ancona case has subscribed to the principle that no ships will be sunk, unless they offer resistance or flee, without the persons aboard being brought to safety. This is considered an assurance that is far reaching and satisfactory.

Germany only promised not to attack "liners" until the persons aboard had been placed in boats. The extent of the designation "liners" never has been cleared up and the American Government does not concede that placing persons in boats necessarily assures their safety.

Points which Austria leaves for further diplomatic correspondence are not considered of a nature to bring on a new crisis. Chief among them are questions of fact which affect Austria's responsibility for what happened before the submarine commander torpedoed the Ancona, and their importance is minimized by the promise to pay indemnity for Americans lost regardless of the absence of proof as to just how they met their death.

The mere statement that the submarine commander has been punished for not making allowances for the panic on the ship undoubtedly will be accepted without question and without further inquiry as to its nature.

OSAGE INDIANS GIVEN CITIZENSHIP RIGHTS

Pawhuska, Okla., Jan. 1.—Oklahoma received a New Year gift of 2,229 citizens, each worth about $30,000, when Federal Judge Henry Hudson handed down a decision to-day holding that all Osage Indians were full citizens of the United States, and as such were entitled to all rights, privileges and immunities granted in the Fourteenth constitutional amendment.

The decision gives the members of the tribe complete control over their personal properties but does not affect their real estate holdings. In handing down the decision Judge Hudson held as naught a divorce which an Osage procured by tribal custom from his wife, holding that the Osages are citizens and that their divorces must be granted by the State courts.

END OF EUROPEAN WAR SEEMS A LITTLE NEARER

London, Dec. 31.—The last day of the year found the European belligerents too busily occupied with matters of pressing importance to pause long enough to do any extensive mental stock-taking regarding the war situation.

To most of the fighting nations the war probably seemed rather nearer its end a year ago than now. For Great Britain, its unfortunate year passes into history with a fresh naval calamity—the sinking of the cruiser Natal.

The last day of the old year was a busy one for the British cabinet, which accompanied peacefully the almost unbroken back of holding two meetings in a single day. It now appears that the momentous transition to compulsory service in Great Britain is likely to be accomplished with tranquillity. The press and all shades of opinion already are exulting that "no change of equal importance was ever enacted with such a lack of disturbance or with so close an approach to public unanimity."

On the fighting fronts the year ends with the promise of interesting developments in many theaters.

POSSUM HUNTER CASES COMING UP IN BUTLER

Bowling Green, Ky., Jan. 1.—The most important cases before the Warren Circuit Court at its January term, beginning next Monday, will be the trials of the alleged possum hunters of Butler county, the cases having been transferred here on a change of venue. The men to be tried are: Bob Hammers, George Sweezer, three charges; Silas Jenkins, P. C. Jenkins, already convicted, two charges; Theron Dorris, Dock Gardner, two charges; J. A. Gardner, two charges; Marion Drake, two charges; Willie Vaughn and Tim Vaughn.

P. C. Jenkins was tried at the last criminal term and was given a four-years' term in the penitentiary. The case was appealed, but affirmed. The outcome of these cases will be watched with much interest.

WOUNDED SOLDIERS ARE SLEEPING UNDER WATER

Cambridge, Eng., Jan. 1.—A ward in which the patients sleep on inflated rubber mattresses half submerged in tubs filled with warm water is the latest feature of the famous open-air military hospital located here.

It was found that many of the patients arriving at the hospital had such terrible wounds that they were unable to bear the pain, and as the constant administration of opiates retarded their progress, it was decided by Colonel Griffiths to provide a bath ward where the bad cases could spend their entire time in the water. The water, which is kept flowing through the tub, is maintained at a temperature of 100 degrees.

By a system of slings the patient lies on a rubber mattress with his entire body under water, only his head showing above the level of the bath. A casual observer passing through the ward would never know the patients were in a tub. The head is in sight, occupying an ordinary pillow, and the figure seems to be covered by the conventional hospital blanket. However, when the flap is opened the body is seen to be submerged in water, but lying on a rubber mattress which is pronounced absolutely comfortable by the patients.

One patient, whose thigh had been ripped away by a shell, has been in a tub continuously for six weeks. Before he was placed in the tub he said that he feared that he was going insane from the pain, but during his sojourn in the water he had not felt anything worse than the usual discomfort from long confinement in bed.

PNEUMONIA AND GRIP TAKE RECORD DEATH TOLL

Philadelphia, Jan. 2.—Pneumonia and grip, which have been epidemic here for several weeks, caused a record number of deaths during the week ending yesterday. The total for the week was 971, nearly 50 per cent. being ascribed by the attending physicians to these diseases.

For last Monday the report to the Bureau of Vital Statistics showed 262 deaths, the greatest number ever recorded by the bureau in a single day. The weekly death rate usually averages 422.

Many industrial plants and business offices have been seriously crippled by the enforced absence of employees suffering from grip, which in many cases has developed into pneumonia.

MANY MIRACULOUSLY SAVED

Reports On the Mediterranean Tragedy Are Coming In Slowly.

CAPTAIN OF PERSIA DROWNED

London, Jan. 2.—Unofficial dispatches from Cairo state that the British steamship Persia, sunk in the Mediterranean on Thursday, was torpedoed without warning and sank in five minutes.

One hundred and fifty-eight survivors have been landed at Alexandria, Egypt. The survivors comprise the chief officer, second officer, seven engineers, twenty-seven seamen, sixty-three lascars and fifty-nine passengers.

Robert N. McNeely, American consul at Aden, Arabia, is believed to have been drowned.

Reuters' Cairo correspondent makes the unreserved statement that Mr. McNeely lost his life. Charles F. Grant, of Boston, was saved.

Details of the sinking of the Persia came in slowly, but such information as was received made it appear that the number of persons who escaped in the four boats which were put off was larger than was hoped when the first news was received yesterday. The Peninsula & Oriental Company, which owned the Persia, announced this morning that 158 survivors had arrived at Alexandria. A Lloyd's dispatch gives the number as 153, made up of 59 passengers, of whom 17 are women, and 94 members of the crew, including 59 lascars.

The survivors include ten military officers and eight persons who are not British subjects.

"The ship was struck amid on the port side at 1:10 p. m." Reuters' correspondent at "She had disappeared completely."

"Survivors say it was little of a miracle that anyone was saved. There was no panic. They were launched with promptitude. 'The captain was last seen he was swimming. He had plunged face down.'"

Full Details London, Jan. 2.—The loss of the Persia, sunk in the Mediterranean on Thursday, is still being investigated. The latest advice from survivors, of whom 153 were reported, have been landed. Hope is diminishing that there will be any more. No further word has been received concerning American Consul Robert McNeely. There seems to be little doubt that he has drowned. It is now apparent that the death list will be in excess of 200, while one report places the known survivors at only 158, out of 550 passengers and crew.

A dispatch to the Times from Cairo says that two boat loads of people were drawn down with the steamer Persia when she sank, as there was no time to cut the ropes.

Four boats got away but it was 30 hours before a trawler picked them up.

Several ships passed by without assisting the refugees, being presumably decoys.

Many passengers were into the water when the vessel was over.

Unofficial dispatches state that the Persia sank without warning minutes.

CICERO MAXWELL BARNETT.

many friends here—which included the whole citizenship of the town and community—were shocked and grieved at the announcement, for they all sincerely hoped he would come safely through the operation which it was learned had been decided upon to relieve his affliction. The announcement of his death cast a gloom over the whole town.

Col. Barnett died on the operating table, just as the surgeons were finishing up their work. Though in doubt before the operation, it was found that appendicitis was the cause of his ailment and that he would have died soon in any event.

It would be hard in this feeble tribute and in these faulty words to fittingly set forth the worthy life and notable activities of Col. Barnett. He had lived the most of his life among us and we all knew him as one neighbor knows another. And we knew him but to love him for his noble character and unselfish deeds. He knew the value of loyal friendship and he practiced it. Perhaps he had some faults which come to human kind—who hasn't?—but the worthy points of his character so far outweighed the common frailties of mankind that we must give the meed of praise to one who commanded the respect and esteem of so many of his loyal fellowmen, both here and elsewhere, for Col. Barnett was widely known. He had arisen from a humble farmer's boy to stations of distinction and honor. These were the gifts of his friends.

In life's activities around his old town, Col. Barnett had caught the vision of progress and achievement. He saw a new Hartford and he saw a new Ohio county in the future. In the past, and his best efforts, he put forth for the accomplishment of these ambitions. He was a public spirited man who loved his town and county and ever strove for their advancement and betterment. He believed in several local improvements and enjoyed the tra-

Ind., and at the Northwestern University at Evanston, Ill. He finished his literary course at the latter place when about 24 years old. In the meantime he had studied law and was admitted to the Ohio county bar in the year 1895, and has been a practicing attorney ever since. Early in life he joined the M. E. Church at Noreek, where he was born. Later he came to Hartford and moved his membership here. He was highly respected in the councils of his church and was a faithful Sunday school pupil.

Col. Barnett was elected Representative in the Legislature from Ohio county in November, 1895, and served with honor throughout the coming session. In 1894 he was elected chairman of the Fourth Congressional District Committee of his party and served four years. He was also chairman of the Republican State Central Committee eight years.

In the year 1896 Col. Barnett was appointed by President McKinley as Collector of Customs for the Port of Louisville. He served four years and was reappointed to the same place by President Roosevelt, holding this position altogether about nine years. He was National President of the American Society of Equity during the years 1907-8, and always took an active part in the interests of the local A. S. of E.

Col. Barnett first gained prominence in his talent for writing in the spring of 1888, when he engaged in a religious discussion with Rev. H. M. Ford, in the columns of the Hartford Herald. In this he held his points with becoming force and ability. A few months after this he became editor of the Hartford Republican. When he was appointed to the Collectorship at Louisville he sold the paper. After his terms at Louisville expired he came back to Hartford and again acquired control of the Republican and became its editor, which place he has held ever since. He was an excellent writer

TOO WISE TO SAY SHOW MEN

3,000 World Freaks Are Shivering

IN CHICAGO PRESENT WINTER
Bearded Lady and Human Skeleton Trying To Make Best Of It.

IT LOOKS LIKE HARD TIMES

Chicago, Jan. 1.—Step right this way, folks!

Don't crowd, please! Plenty of room! And plenty of time!

This show is going to stick around awhile—it won't go until the going is better than it is in these lean days of the side show business. It won't move until there's some place to move to.

Admission to this show? What dyemane admission? The great amalgamated conglomerated street show is not now on public exhibition. When the happy family of the world's most remarkable freaks, nature's most fantastic misfits, hold their grotesque parade every afternoon and night on North Clark street you may look upon them free and for nothing. You may look upon them often if you make North Clark street your habitat.

You may even sit at the same pie counter with Buster Bingo, the Fat Boy, only one of his kind in existence, ladies and gentlemen; or you may rub elbows in the shopping procession with the Bearded Lady, who's out on a hunt for "some cute little plaything for the granddaughter that's doing a turn on the vaudeville stage."

For this is the playtime of the association freaks, the queer folks you paid a dime to see on "circus day" last summer and thought the dime well spent. This is their playtime and the gloomy canyon of Clark, Ohio or Erie streets, far from sawdust and sunshine and happy circus-loving children, is their playground. No official census of the freaks now "laying off" in Chicago has been taken but for figures declares there are 3,000 of them here, and he's "sure sorry for them that's anywhere else."

Why the tent dwellers flit from Coney Island, Frisco, Detroit or Seattle to Chicago as soon as the tents are folded away, no sawdust entertainer can tell, but the Human Giant probably expressed the sentiment of his fellow freaks when he said: "Better a meal a day in good Chicago and an odd job now and then than doing one of them bum southern circuits."

So this year as other years Christmas holidays bring the side show troupers to "good old Chi"—to the sky-high attics on Clark street where rents are low, or to the comfortable little basement "housekeeping suits" on Ohio street, "just a step from Clark."

Playtime, however, isn't always a gay time for the folks of the caravans. The price of a good, "filling" meal has been known to change a morning of gayety into an evening of gloom.

"The show business is sure dull

T. P. TAYLOR

"The greatest health insurance in the world is the simplest," he said. "I never could quite understand why people have so negligent in the use of the simplest of all preventives of illness. It's a matter of keeping the bowels open. The man who carries a little box of Small's Oriental has got a good health policy in his pocket. I believe that's the best laxative ever prepared, and their pleasant taste appeals to men, women and children alike."

in winter," says the skeleton-giant—she stands seven-feet-three in her hose, and weighs only ninety-five pounds—"Two years ago I was drawing down $25 per in a Frisco museum; look at me now, doing my own washing and cooking my own grub. And I don't like washing and I don't like cooking. But the movies put the museum out of business and they don't seem to want our kind in the 'pictures'."

"There's something wrong with the side show business," says Harry Chester, King of Magic, to whom the "crowned heads of Europe" were once as familiar as the tow-head of the boy who feeds candy to the trained rattle-snake. "Or else there's something wrong with the people. They are so wise, so worldly, so hard to please. I sometimes feel sorry for them, not so much because they spoil the show business, but because they've let themselves grow so wise and old that even the side show can't make 'em feel like kids again. There's something wrong with the world when people get like that."

DEATH UNITES BROTHERS SEPARATED MANY YEARS

Philadelphia, Penn., Dec. 31.—Lying but a few feet apart in the same ward, two brothers, who had drifted into a Philadelphia hospital within a few hours of each other, suffering from pneumonia, died within two hours to-day without knowing that the other was near.

Each brother's dying message was to the other, who each said was "somewhere in British Honduras." The brothers, Theophilus Gentle, 28 years old, and John Gentle, 26, both told the physicians that they had been wandering over the face of the globe for years. They were stated at the hospital on the same day, but by different clerks, and each left the information that in case of death his brother should be notified.

Before the hospital attendants discovered the relationship the two were on the verge of death, and physicians feared that to break the news of the other brother's nearness might hasten the death of each.

Unless other relatives are discovered the two will be buried in Potter's field. They lie together, side by side, on marble slabs in the hospital morgue.

A dry, hacking cough is hard on the lungs, often causing them to bleed. Ballard's Horehound Syrup is a healing agent that quickly repairs damage in the lungs and air passages. Price 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle. Sold by Wilbur Mitchell, Beaver Dam.

They Go Also.

Uncle Mose was making a great fuss while trying to round up a lot of hens and roosters that had escaped from their pen in his backyard.

"Why all the excitement?" asked a good-natured passerby.

"Ah wan to git 'em all back in, right away," explained Uncle Mose.

"But why not wait until evening? Chickens come home to roost."

"Yes," replied Uncle Mose with a grin, "an' dey goes home, too."

Any little wound or abrasion of the flesh occurring in cold weather that is not promptly treated becomes a bad sore and is difficult to heal. Apply Ballard's Snow Liniment at once when such accidents happen. The wound heals promptly and soon does away with the annoyance of a bandage. Price 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle. Sold by Wilbur Mitchell, Beaver Dam.

CHINA TO INAUGURATE CONSCRIPTION AT ONCE

Peking, Dec. 31.—China is to have compulsory military service. The Government has announced that conscription will be inaugurated on January 1, 1916. It will first be put into effect in Chi Li province in which Peking is located, and Shan Tung province, which adjoins Chi Li province on the south. Details have not yet been arranged, but are now under consideration by the general staff.

It has also been decided by the general staff to organize an aeroplane corps which will have its headquarters at Wuli Tai in Nan Yang, where the Government aviation school is located. Nan Yang is in Honan province southwest of Peking.

Always At It.

The German success in the winter over of Bulgaria led Dr. John H. Schwegel, the Austrian Consul to St. Louis, to say during his last visit to New York:

"The way Germany keeps straight on winning, it makes one think of the farmer's daughter."

"How many steps has your daughter's new organ got?" a friend asked the farmer.

"Three," the farmer answered—"breakfast, dinner and supper."

There are many men of many minds, some of them even mind their own business.

NEW PASSENGERS ON WATER WAGON

To the Number Of Eight Million Souls.

STRINGENT LAWS EFFECTIVE

With Coming Of the New Year—Seven States
Going Dry.

NO BRANDY FOR MINCE PIES

Statewide prohibition becomes effective in seven States with the coming of the new year. They are Colorado, Iowa, Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Arkansas and South Carolina. When Virginia closes its saloons on November 1, 1916, nineteen States will have joined the dry column.

Nebraska, California, Michigan, South Dakota, Vermont and the Territory of Alaska will vote on prohibition next year and several other States are expected to ballot on the question.

The seven States which board the water cart add a population of 8,254,043 to the dry ranks, according to the 1910 census.

Colorado's turning to the drys is the greatest blow of the year to the saloons. Sixteen hundred dram-shops and eleven breweries are put out of business in that State. Liquor can be obtained only four ounces at a time on a non-refillable prescription of a physician and liquor advertisements may not appear in Colorado newspapers after New Year's.

The remaining 483 saloons and sixteen breweries in Iowa close because of the repeal of the mullet law by the legislature a year ago. The breweries which go out of business are capitalized at $4,236,963.

In Arkansas 136 saloons go out of business under the most stringent prohibition law in the United States. Under the local option elections all except six of the seventy-five counties have been dry for some months. The new law provides one year in the penitentiary for violations and clubs are prohibited from serving drinks to members.

Idaho's 200 saloons close under the "drum tight" prohibition law. An attack on the law is now before the United States Supreme Court on appeal.

All Aboard!

Seattle, Wash., Dec. 30.—Three million new passengers for the water wagon!

On January 1, the dry wave over a once sloppy and "liberal" West, adds the people of Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Colorado to the prohibition roster.

Court decisions have sustained the popular anti-booze verdict. Forty-five breweries and 2,190 saloons are put out of business, and more than $100,000,000 capital invested in the liquor industry goes into a state of suspended animation. "Blind pigs" will have tough rooting.

The new law, practically the same in all four States, permits an individual to buy not more than two quarts of beer every twenty days. This must be shipped in, since manufacture as well as retail of liquor is prohibited. These purchases must be registered with designated authorities.

The most interesting test for the rest of the country to watch will be the effect of prohibition in Seattle, heretofore a decidedly wet seaport, and the largest city in the United States to go dry.

Seattle has four breweries and 315 saloons. These paid a $1,000 annual license each.

The Seattle Brewing and Malting Company, sixth largest in the United States, has erected a new establishment in San Francisco. Its $3,000,000 plant here will remain idle.

In Idaho the situation is less acute, since the drys have been winning important local victories there for years. Four of the largest breweries had quit even before the State went dry.

One-thirteenth of Colorado will

WHAT CATARRH IS

It has been said that every third person has catarrh in some form.

Science has shown that nasal catarrh often indicates a general weakness of the body; and local treatments in the form of snuffs and vapors do little, if any good.

To correct catarrh you should treat its cause by enriching your blood with the oil-laden Scott's Emulsion which is a medicinal food and a building tonic, free from alcohol or any harmful drugs. Try it. Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N. J.

go dry on January 1. Twelve-thirteenth are already dry.

Approximately 1,600 saloons will close their doors. Eleven breweries will stop making beer. Five of these breweries are large ones, capitalized at more than $3,000,000. Four of them will make other products. The smaller breweries, with only a small force of men, will quit business.

The converted breweries will manufacture "near beer" and soft drinks. The Coors brewery, at Golden, Col., will make pottery from the clay beds near by and will gradually include other lines.

In Colorado 100 saloons have already quit and about 100 more will close by the first of the year, as their licenses expire at that time.

Throughout the State 23,000 men are connected with the liquor traffic. Many of them have already found other work.

One stringent feature is the order for no liquor in foods. Mince pies must be brandyless and brandy sauce must be tabooed, according to the order.

George A. Carlson, General Fred Farrar.

"People don't drink mince pies, of course," said the Governor, "but liquor is liquor, no matter how you get it down."

"I don't quite get you," answered his employer. "Is it any harder work to drive this car than it would be to drive a new one?"

"No, but it's very humiliating to me to be seen driving a last year's model, and you'll have to pay me for the injury to my feelings."

THE HARTFORD HERALD

HEBER MATTHEWS, FRANK L. FELIX, EDITORS.
FRANK L. FELIX, Pub. and Prop'r

Entered at the Hartford post-office as mail matter of the second class.

Following the death of Col. C. M. Barnett, the Hartford Republican has been taken charge of by his two sons, Allison and Estill, the first named of whom was formerly associate editor of the paper before going to Nashville to live and the latter having lately held that position. They are both good boys with considerable experience in the newspaper business and they will hold the Republican in its noted course of success in the journalistic field.

If the coming Kentucky Legislature will pass about half a dozen much needed new laws and repeal a whole bunch of abortive and unrecognized old or recently enacted laws, its members will do a real service for the State. Kentucky is now handicapped by a lot of petty and sometimes meaningless laws which are seldom if ever observed and which are good for nothing only a bugaboo to drag out now and then. Let us have some sane legislation that will be of profit to the whole people of the State.

In many of the large cities of the country where big manufacturing plants are located and much skilled labor is employed, wages are being increased right along. In the strong business centers trade is active. Prosperity is prevalent, although in some sections it may not be especially felt. This sort of thing cannot last long without spreading out to the remotest sections. This country, taken as a whole, is in first-class business condition and prospects are that there will be no change, only for the better.

A great wave of liquor prohibition is spreading over the country with the advent of the New Year. States that it was not thought would ever do such a thing have gone "dry," and a wholesale and concerted attack is being made upon the liquor traffic. Of course there will be men—friends of the saloon—to prophesy all kinds of business calamity and lawlessness to follow these innovations, but that will not alter the fact that the country is going "dry." Maudlin sentiment is not at the bottom of all this. It is a personal business proposition. Men cannot habitually drink liquor without depreciating their physical and mental ability. They are quitting and voting liquor out of sight.

About the only satisfaction the Republican politicians are getting out of Col. Roosevelt anent his inclination to become a candidate for President is his "Barkis is willin'" attitude. There can be little doubt that the Colonel desires the nomination very much, but taking into consideration what happened about four years ago and the consequent chasm which yawned between him and his former political colleagues, the situation is rather a delicate one—that is, if, you can associate the word "delicate" with anything pertaining to Col. Roosevelt.

Kentucky is now getting a practical administration of affairs by a practical Governor in the present Chief Executive. He shows himself master of the situation. He will not only carry out campaign promises in the economical administration of government, but will inaugurate such other reforms as he sees are needed in a wise control of the State's business. He has already shown that he is an unbossed Governor and that he has the interests of the whole Commonwealth at heart. He seems destined to grow in popularity and usefulness as the days of his official career go by.

The newspaper profession of the State, the people of Hartford and Ohio county sustain a grievous loss in the death of Col. C. M. Barnett, erstwhile editor and publisher of the Hartford Republican. He was a leader among men and the peer of the foremost men of his type. He enjoyed the esteem and respect of a large circle of friends and occupied several places of honor and distinction which he filled to the utmost satisfaction of all. He is gone, but his genial face and pleasant manners, his worthy citizenship, will be long remembered by those left behind who felt honored to call him friend or acquaintance.

As we are entering upon the new year, it should be brought to mind by every citizen of Ohio county that perhaps the most important matter that confronts them is that of good roads. Already a good start has been made by the organization of the Ohio County Good Roads Association and its consequent splendid work. The first meeting of this Association for the new year will be held at Beaver Dam next Saturday, January 8. It should be largely attended. Let the year 1916 see the greatest strides in securing improvement of our public highways that Ohio county has ever witnessed. Let everybody take part in working up enthusiasm over it.

JUSTICE LAMAR PASSES AWAY—OVERWORK VICTIM

Washington, Jan. 2.—Joseph Rucker Lamar, associate justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, died at his home here tonight after an illness of several months. He was 58 years old and had been on the Supreme Court bench five years.

The immediate cause of death was gradual heart failure, hastened by inflammation of one of the lungs, which had threatened to develop into pneumonia. The attending physician declared, however, that the primary cause was overwork due to the arduous duties of a member of the Supreme Court and as commissioner of the United States in 1914 to the mediation conference between the United States and Mexico at Niagara Falls.

PANAMA CANAL CARRIED OVER THOUSAND SHIPS

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3.—Major Gen. Geo. W. Goethals has submitted to Secretary of War Garrison his annual report as Governor of the Panama Canal, dated Aug. 2. It makes no reference to the slide, which since then has stopped navigation.

In the period during which the canal was in operation, the report says, 530 vessels, representing a net Panama Canal tonnage of 2,125,735, passed through from north to south (Colon to Panama) and 558 vessels, with a net tonnage of 1,953,307, from south to north.

The report notes that work was continued during the year on the gun and mortar batteries, and by the close of the year the concrete work and all of the backfill were completed. Work was in progress on the range and fire-control systems and the mounting of ordnance.

Fire that destroyed the South Chicago plant of the American Linseed Company caused the death of six men and occasioned a property loss of $2,000,000.

REPUBLICANS SWARM TO THE OLD PIE COUNTER

Owensboro Affairs to Be Administered By G. O. P. From Now On.

Owensboro, Ky., Dec. 31.—For the first time in six years Owensboro is on the eve of a Republican administration. On the first Monday night in December the newly-elected members of the City Council took their seats and at that time named heads of the various city departments and men to serve under them from the ranks of the Republican party, the Council being made up of ten Republicans and two Democrats. Democratic Mayor Hickman's term continues for two more years and he, having the right as Mayor to appoint his police force, saved that much of the city's patronage from the Republican "pie counter."

All of those Republicans who have been elected by the Council have executed the required bond and will be ready to take charge of their respective offices in the morning. The Republican force will be made up of the following:

W. T. Phipps, City Clerk, who succeeds W. H. Robinson; John A. Dean, Jr., who succeeds George S. Wilson; R. C. Cummins, Chief of the Fire Department, who succeeds John W. Conyers; (Mr. Conyers, who had been in the service of the city for twenty-five years, was taken care of on the police force by the Mayor); W. W. Milam, workhouse keeper, who succeeds Bud Bradley; Thomas K. Gore, superintendent of the Scavenger Department, who succeeds Charles Henry; George Slack, Auditor, who succeeds Marc C. Stuart; A. Stettler, Jr., Assessor, who succeeds Clarence Westerfield; Dr. C. M. Heavrin, Milk Inspector, who succeeds Dr. Virgil Hart; R. B. Bell, colored City Physician, who succeeds R. S. Cunningham; D. A. McCormick, park keeper, who succeeds A. C. Clements.

E. H. Briedenbach, who was made superintendent of the Municipal Light and Water Department, began his work some time ago, when the Democratic incumbent, Asa Williams, resigned.

DUNDEE, Jan. 3.—Romney Rutherford died of pneumonia at 6:30 p. m., Dec. 31st.

His remains were taken to Cloverport, Ky., and interred Saturday, January 1st. The deceased was 51 years, 6 months and 3 days old and was one of our best citizens, well liked by every one. He was sick eleven days. His wife, who was dangerously sick during his entire illness, is some better. Romney had never united with any church but was one of the most moral of men. He leaves a wife, mother, father, one brother, three sisters and a lot of friends to mourn his demise.

Rev. J. P. Vanhoy baptized five converts last Sunday, by immersion. They joined the M. E. church here. Mrs. A. B. Wedding, who has been sick some time, is but little if any better. Milt Loyd's children, who had diphtheria, are better. The water in Rough river is again.

PRESBYTERIANS JAPAN SCHOOL

Celebrated in the True
Christmas Spirit.

FRIENDLY HELP FREELY GIVEN

To Make the Occasion Grand Success—Honoring 25th Anniversary.

SOUVENIRS WERE GIVEN OUT

The Golden Castle Girls' School, the well known institution of Southern Presbyterianism in Nagoya, Japan, recently celebrated its twenty-fifth anniversary, and Miss Charlotte Thompson gives a most interesting account of the event. She writes:

"For months we have been getting ready for our celebration. We thought the best way to make our guests remember our school pleasantly was to give them a luncheon, so we planned a nice menu for one hundred guests at 30 cents a plate. We had soup, fish and fried potatoes, beef loaf with baked mushrooms, spinach balls with nuts, corn and chestnuts, a fruit salad in bright red apples on lettuce leaves, a pretty grape gelatin with a custard sauce and good foreign cake and the usual final cup of coffee.

"We had the mayor and his wife, two from the educational department, principals of the high school, middle schools, girls' high schools and of all the primary schools in our eastern postal district. Besides these we had a representative from each of our city newspapers, all the evangelists in the city, the two ladies from our sister mission school here in Nagoya, ladies of my foreign cooking class, the teachers of our school and a number from our mission.

"One of our friends loaned us a nice big tent, the principal of the Methodist boys' school loaned about twenty-five writing tablets that we used with the ones we had, the principal of another boys' middle school (who is openly opposed to Christianity) loaned chairs and a small tent to cover the serving tables. We still lacked chairs, so we got the mayor to lend sixty of the city hall chairs. You will be amused when I tell you that almost every foreign family in Nagoya helped to supply us with table cloths. Our upper class girls did all the serving.

"Mrs. McAlpine and Miss Buchanan fixed dozens of vases of beautiful cut flowers on this long hollow-square table and in all the rooms where the guests were to wait. Committees of teachers and girls decorated the chapel with a vine, something like our smilax, and red and white flowers. There was a special Japanese decoration of a pine tree reaching almost to the ceiling and a bunch of lovely yellow chrysanthemums at its base. Other teachers and girls made a beautiful arch and placed in the center a frame bearing the Chinese characters for 'Congratulations.' These letters were made of red yarn, which was cut in tiny fractional parts, and each pasted to stand upright. Around these two characters was a field of white cotton.

"After luncheon we had a 'ceremony.' The national anthem was sung, the Imperial Rescript on Education was read, a short sketch of the school, awarding of silver watches to two of the teachers; one having been with us as a student for eight years and later as a teacher for thirteen years, the other being our old minister, who is 67 and who

MRS. KERNS' ADVICE

To Weak, Nervous, Run-Down Women

So, Cumberland, Md.—"For a long time I suffered from a nervous breakdown. I could not eat or sleep and was so weak I could hardly walk. My husband heard about Vinol and got me to try it. Now I have a good appetite, sleep soundly and am well and strong. Every nervous, weak, run-down woman should try Vinol.—Mrs. D. W. KERNS. Vinol is a delicious cod liver and iron tonic, without oil, which we guarantee to create a healthy appetite, aid digestion and make pure healthy blood.

James H. Williams, Druggist, Hartford, Ky. Vinol is sold in Beaver Dam by Z. Wilbur Mitchell, Druggist.

has been with us for ten years. We then had speeches by the mayor, the Governor's representative, the principal of the boys' high school, the representatives of the Pastors' Association, and by Mr. McAlpine for our mission.

"Just as the people were leaving we gave each a small package containing the School Magazine, a set of post-cards of the school, a box of cake made in the shape of the school's coat-of-arms, and a gospel. This is what a lieutenant wrote: 'Taking them home, I told your kindness to my family and showed the Scripture gift as the golden light of the 'Kinjo' with respect and gratitude.' We are praying that many will read and come to be saved.

"After the guests left, the school assembled to plant a 'this-year-born' laurel tree. We had regular exercises and buried at the base of the tree in a tin-lined jar the school's history, colors, motto and autographs of all here at school. We marked this little tree with a stone bearing the dates, 1889-1915.

"At half-past five people began to assemble for our entertainment. The girls did well, the newspapers said, in their music, reading, recitations and plays. One play, which was pretty and took well, was the Parable of the Ten Virgins. At half-past eight all was over and we were a delighted crowd. All the newspapers had only nice things to say about both meetings.

"Many friends at this time gave gifts to supply the lacking chairs, rugs, tables, hatrack and so forth.

"The next day we had a quiet time celebrating with the alumnae and the school girls. We all had lunch together and then field day sports.

"These two days' exercises were closed with grateful hearts, for we felt that all our work and efforts had not been in vain."

For Rheumatism.

As soon as an attack of rheumatism begins apply Sloan's Liniment. Don't waste time and suffer unnecessary agony. A few drops of Sloan's Liniment on the affected parts is all you need. The pain goes at once. A grateful sufferer writes: "I was suffering for three weeks with chronic rheumatism and stiff neck. Although I tried many medicines, they failed, and I was under the care of a doctor. Fortunately I heard of Sloan's Liniment and after using it three or four days am up and well. I am employed at the biggest department store in S. F. where they employ from six to eight hundred hands, and they surely will hear all about Sloan's Liniment.—H. B. Smith, San Francisco, Cal.—Jan., 1915." At all druggists. m

WAGES INCREASED IN NORTHERN NEW ENGLAND

Boston, Dec. 31.—Notices of wage increases affecting many thousand employees were posted to-day in cotton mills in various cities of Northern New England. The action followed a conference of mill treasurers held in this city at which it was agreed that improvement in business conditions warranted an advance to operatives.

Cities in which wage increase notices were posted included Nashua, Dover, Somersworth and Salmon Falls, N. H., and Lowell and Lawrence, Mass. While no specific amount was named, it is understood here that the advance will average 5 per cent. for all employees receiving $10 a week or under. The number of operatives affected by the increase is said to be 75,000.

Whether this advance will be followed by a general readjustment of wages in the entire textile industry in New England is uncertain, but other mill interests are said to have had the matter under consideration for some weeks.

GOLD BARS FROM CHINA MAILED FOR 60 CENTS

A small package wrapped in soiled linen was brought into the Assay Office by registered mail yesterday. From outward appearances it might have contained an infernal machine, but Superintendent Bowie recalled notice of consignment of a small amount of gold from China and opened the package without hesitation.

He found inside a cylinder of wood packed with cotton, and inside that a piece of bamboo with the natural joint at one end and the other end plugged with a bamboo stopper and sealed with wax. Inside that was a small bar of gold of the purest quality ever received at the Assay office. It was extremely light and of brilliant color.

The value of the gold was $600. It was sent here from the Shanghai branch office of the Guaranty Trust Company to the main office in this city. The cost of transportation was 60 cents.

The Assay Office also took in yesterday $2,000,000 in French gold coin and $2,000,000 in English gold coin.—[New York World.]

MYSTERY MAKES TANLAC SECURE

Imitation Is Set at Defiance by the Famous Master Medicine.

Tanlac! There is magic in this household word—a magic made by success unprecedented and a fame based very solidly on its accomplishments in more than one million homes.

The ingredients for Tanlac are gathered in the remotest parts of the world. From the far North woods to Argentina, below the equator; in Russian Asia, the Alps, Pyrenees, on the sunny shores of Italy, from Brazil, Sumatra, Peru, the West Indies, and the slopes of our own timber-topped Rocky Mountains, come the roots, herbs, barks and even flowers that, under the direction of Herr Joseph Von Trimbach, the noted German chemist, are compounded into Tanlac.

There can be no successful imitation of Tanlac. It is compounded as skillfully and as mysteriously as nature distills the famed mineral waters of Europe.

Tanlac, now universally known as the Master Medicine, is proving invaluable against ailments of the stomach, liver and kidneys, and catarrhal affections of the mucous membranes, which, when neglected, so often affect the vital organs themselves. As a general tonic for half sick, run-down men and women, it builds up the tissues, creates a keen appetite promotes digestion, vitalizes the blood and brings back color to the cheeks and sparkle to the eyes.

Tanlac may now be obtained in Hartford at the Ohio County Drug Co.'s drug store, L. C. Morton & Son, Centertown, Z. Wilbur Mitchell, Beaver Dam, where it is being explained daily.—[Advertisement.]

Women Of Sedentary Habits.

Women who get but little exercise are likely to be troubled with constipation and indigestion and will find Chamberlain's Tablets highly beneficial. Not so good as a three or four mile walk every day, but very much better than to allow the bowels to remain in a constipated condition. They are easy and pleasant to take and most agreeable in effect. Obtainable everywhere. Advertisement.

Fees.

"How much does that stylish doctor of yours charge?"
"Ten dollars a visit."
"Gee! How often has he called at your house this month?"
"Twenty times."
"Gosh, You owe him $200 then?"
"Nope; only $10. He's made the other nineteen calls trying to collect it."

Constipation and Indigestion.

"I have used Chamberlain's Tablets and must say they are the best I have ever used for constipation and indigestion. My wife also used them for indigestion and they did her good." writes Eugene S. Knight, Wilmington, N. C. Obtainable everywhere. Advertisement.

Hogs As Watchdogs.

In some parts of Mexico the wild hogs which the natives call jabalis, are used as watchdogs. If they are caught young and brought up with goats they will go out into the hills with the herd and fight coyotes or other wild animals; if they are raised with chickens they will protect them. They are as useful as any dog around the house at night, and can be trained to follow their master like a dog.—[Chicago Journal.]

A SALE BILL OF 1846— FREE LUNCH ON THE SIDE

There has not been much change in the style of sale bills in the last half century, except perhaps in the articles listed and the phraseology. Away back in the dusty past they attracted buyers with the free lunch bait, same as to-day. Here is a copy of a sale bill in a Missouri newspaper in 1846:

PUBLIC SALE.

State of Missouri, County of Pike. To Whom It May Concern: The undersigned will on Tuesday, September 29, A. D. 1846, sell at public outcry, for cash, on premises where Coon Creek crosses the old Missouri road, the following chattels, to-wit: Six yoke of oxen, with yoke and chain, two wagons with beds, three nigger wenches, four buck niggers, three nigger boys, two prairie-plows, 25 steel traps, one bbl. pickled cabbage, one hoghead bacon, one spinning wheel, one loom, ten foxhounds, one lot coon, mink and skunk skins and a lot of other articles. Am gwine to California. Steve Brown; John Smith, crier. Free head cheese, apples and cider.—[Deep River (Iowa) Cor. Denver Post.]

SPECIAL NOTICE
in regard to
OBITUARIES, RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT, &c.

The Hartford Herald has adopted a new rule in regard to Obituaries, Resolutions of Respect, Cards of Thanks, &c., whether written personally or for lodges, churches or individuals, and that is, we shall charge at the rate of five cents per line for all such articles, except obituary poetry, which will be one cent per word straight.

The amount, in cash or stamps, must accompany each article, or it will not be printed. Six words average a line in ordinary reading and every separate character or initial letter counts as a word. The heading and the signature both count one line each, even if they are only a word or two. All obituary poetry, straight through, one cent per word. This ruling applies to everybody alike, without any distinction. Contributors please remember.

The Gist Of It.

"Last December I had a very severe cold and was nearly down sick in bed. I bought two bottles of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and it was only a very few days until I was completely restored to health," writes O. J. Metcalf, Weatherby, Mo. If you would know the value of this remedy, ask any one who has used it. Obtainable everywhere. m

Chinese Like Tobacco.

The introduction of the tobacco habit among the Chinese dates back only a few years, and its spread throughout the country has been astonishingly rapid, so it is stated by Consul-General Anderson, at Hongkong. The cigarette habit is not confined to the men. Girls and women of all classes and ages, from 10 years of age upward, indulge as freely and openly in cigarettes, and with as much apparent enjoyment, as do their brothers.—[Chicago Journal.]

And a word to the otherwise is wasted.

THE WISE FARMER.

There was a man in our town
And he was wondrous wise,
He knew that if he wanted crops
He'd have to fertilize.

It's nitrogen that makes things
green,
Said the man with active brain;
Potash makes a good strong straw,
And phosphate plumps the grain.

But it is wrong to waste plant food
On a wet and soggy field;
I'll surely have to put in drains
If I'd increase the yield.

And after I have drained the land
I must plow it deep all over;
And even then I'll not succeed,
Unless it will grow clover.

An acid soil will not produce
A clover sod that's prime;
So if I have a sour soil,
I'd have to put on lime.

And after doing all these things,
To make success more sure,
I'll try my very best to keep
From wasting the manure.

So I'll drain and lime and cultivate,
With all that that implies;
And when I've done that thoroughly,
I'll manure and fertilize.

Wireless Via Clothesline.

Henry C. Grawler, radio inspector for New England, and Herbert H.
Hammett have invented a tuner for wireless apparatus which, with 225 feet of clothesline wire attached anywhere in any way, will record the conversation between stations as far away as Germany.

Success came when, from a single wire without insulation, attached in a location very unfit for wireless purposes, according to ordinary standards, the workers heard what Elberse, Germany, was saying to Nauen.

The inventors have offered the tunner to the Government, so it may be-the affected part. The relief will be

Used To It.

The man had been haled before the Magistrate on some trivial charge.

"Let me see," said the Judge. "I know you. Are you not the man who was married in a cage of maneating lions?"

"Yes, your honor," replied the culprit. "I am the man."

"Exciting, wasn't it?" continued the Justice.

"Well," said the man judiciously,
"it was then; it wouldn't be now."

Bad Cold Quickly Broken Up.

Mrs. Martha Wilcox, Gowanda, N.
Y., writes: "I first used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy about 8 years ago. At that time I had a hard cold and coughed most of the time. It proved to be just what I needed. It broke up the cold in a few days, and the cough entirely disappeared. I have told many of my friends of the good I received through using this medicine, and all who have used it speak of it in the highest terms."

That Was the Trouble.

"Why are you always quarreling with your wife?" asked a friend.

"She is always arguing with me,"
said the man addressed.

"But you need not get angry. Just explain to her in a calm, gentle tone of voice wherein she is wrong."

"But she is never wrong."

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

DISCUSS MATTERS OF INTEREST

Will Get Together at the Agricultural College at Lexington on Tuesday, January 4th, to Discuss Various Matters of Interest Relating to the Production of Beef Cattle.

Lexington.—Breeders of beef cattle in Kentucky are making preparation for one of the most interesting meetings in the history of their association. They will get together at the Agricultural College, at Lexington, on Tuesday, January 4th, to discuss various matters of interest relating to the production of beef cattle. These men usually have some kind of guessing and judging contests with different grades of steers, the animals being killed and dressed in the presence of the company. Among the members of this association are many of Kentucky's foremost citizens, and they always expect and enjoy a good time at their association meetings.

POULTRY IS GREAT FACTOR

A man very much interested in chickens was heard the other day to express uneasiness for fear the crop reports might show the wheat crop of this year to be of greater value than the poultry crop. Few of us realize how great a factor is poultry in the success of the average farm. The bulk of the poultry supply does not come from poultry farms, but from ordinary farms where poultry is regarded as a by-product.

Kentucky has every year one of the best poultry shows in the country. The show this year will be held the week of January 4th, at the Agricultural College, at Lexington. A very handsome premium list has been provided, and on January 5th the poultry raisers will get together for a big convention. A good time is promised to all who attend. All is free.

THE ANNUAL PORK CROP

If it were not for the cholera, it is hard to tell the value of the annual crop of pork that Kentucky would produce, this state being so admirably adapted to swine raising. As it is, Kentucky has many of the best herds of swine of the various breeds to be found anywhere in the country.
The Kentucky Swine Breeders' Association, an old substantial organization, will hold its annual convention at the Agricultural College, at Lexington, on January 5th, 1916. Some live topics of interest to swine raisers will be opened for general discussion.

The Kentucky Dairy Cattle Club will hold its annual convention during "Farmers' Week" at the Agricultural College at Lexington on January 7th, 1916. All during the week there will be on exhibit the dairy products competing for the handsome prizes that are being offered. This club offers membership to any one interested.

HORTICULTURE IN INFANCY

Greater Interest Is Being Taken Each Year.

Horticulture as an agricultural pursuit is still in its infancy in Kentucky.
Each year greater interest is being taken and in a short time Kentucky will rank as one of the greatest horticultural states in the Union. Several growers have already attained remarkable success. They will appear on the program of the Kentucky State Horticultural Society January 6th during the annual Farmers' Week meeting at the College of Agriculture at Lexington, as well as will speakers from other states. Practical problems will be discussed.

In addition a first class show will be held, for which a large premium list has been prepared. For further particulars address Department of Horticulture, Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station.

CORN GROWERS ARE ACTIVE

Annual Convention Looked Forward To by Many.

The annual show and convention held by The Kentucky Corn Growers' Association has come to be an event looked forward to by all the leading farmers of the state. The show will be held this year during the week of January 4, and on the 6th will be held their annual meeting. The show has grown phenomenally from year to year, and this year a premium list appropriate to a show by far the largest in their history has been prepared. No Kentucky farmer can afford to miss this great event and the opportunity to get acquainted with the best farmers and stock men of the state. The show will be held as a part of Farmers' Week at the Agricultural College at Lexington.

FAMOUS FOR HER HORSES

Good Time and Lot of Information Is Promised.

Kentucky has always been famous for her horses, and it goes without saying that a good time and a lot of information is in store for all who attend the meeting of the Kentucky Horse Breeders' Association, to be held January 6th, at the Agricultural College, at Lexington, as a part of the Farmers'
Week exercises.

The man who attends the horse breeders' or any other meetings will have the free privilege of attending any or all of the other meetings and see the various exhibits, all of which will constitute a rare treat.

ROCKPORT.

Jan. 1.—Rockport Lodge No. 317 met in regular session on St. John's Day, Dec. 27th, and elected and installed officers for the ensuing year as follows: S. L. Fulkerson, Master; W. J. Mason, Senior Warden; R. L. Sullivan, Junior Warden; Roy Deeter, Secretary; M. B. Reid, Treasurer; Warren Nickols, Tyler; J. I. Clark, Senior Deacon, and J. C. Williams, Junior Deacon. The lodge is in fine financial condition and starts the new year with high hopes for good work and benefits to its members.

Claude Ray, son of Jacob Ray, died last Tuesday and was buried at Nelson, Ky., Wednesday.

Alfred Bennett, of Crossville, Ill., was circulating among his old friends in town this week. After spending the holidays with their families, the following parties returned to their several schools and homes: James Austin to Ordenville College at Louisville, Ray Herral to Elkton, Misses Esther Bartlett and Mena Deitiesbrink to Hickman, Ky., Addison Howard and Eugene Gibbs to Bowling Green, Thurston Gibbs to Owensboro, Mrs. Ollie Howerton and her two sons to Central City, E. L. Dupuy to Brookport, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Lee Smith to Louisville.

The play time for our people has passed and each one is now preparing for the struggle for better conditions and a more prosperous year than the one just passed. The decorations have been hauled down, and the regular routine of business is being faced with energy and determination for success.

There is considerable sickness in town, most of it being colds and la grip. Mrs. M. L. Tucker, who has been very sick for several days, is much improved.

Our popular telephone operator, Oscar Ezell, is the happy recipient of a fine boy, presented to him by his wife on Dec. 29th. Oscar does not know whether he is walking in the air or on old Mother Earth. His smile is like the European battle line—from shore to shore. Also on the same day Mrs. Will Bennett presented to her husband a fine girl baby. Will is as proud as a band master. Mothers and babes are doing well.

Miss Norine Black, of Hartford, is the guest of Miss Nora Herrel this week.

BEAVER DAM.

Jan. 3.—The year 1915 will be remembered as a year of plenty, especially bountiful crops, all kinds of fruit and vegetables and every cereal that is grown on the farm. The best of all is that everything grown on the farm brings a fair price, so the farmer that has made a surplus can command the cash at any time without going to the bank.

If the Equity folks would only erect a barn in Beaver Dam or Hartford where they could pool their tobacco, thereby having a market in the county, it would be much better on those who want to grow the weed. They pool their wool and get good cash prices. Also they pool their poultry, which is quite an item with the farmer. Before the Equity was organized they took the prices offered by merchants in goods; no money was offered. They could pool their tobacco the same way and command the same price they now receive in Owensboro and prevent the long haul from this county to the Owensboro market.

We hope this year will be a year of improvement of our public highways and that our county officials will help us on our Dixie Highway from Beaver Dam to Borah's Ferry. The farmers of this part of the county are expecting help along that line during the year and if the officials turn a deaf ear to our demands, there will be another election, and remember that no longer a candidate can come among the voters with a party platform pinned to his coat and command votes. The people will vote for the men for county offices that will look after the welfare of the people at large.

Mrs. Dan Kelly and children and Mrs. J. Leslie Leach, of Central City, spent the week-end with their father, Mr. Geo. H. Barnes. He has been ill of lagrippe but is improving at present.

Miss Grace Williams, who is teaching at Lookout Mountain, Tenn., spent the holidays with her parents at home.

Miss Bessie Renfrow, who is teaching in Logan county, came home during Christmas.

Mrs. Isaac Sanderfur and little daughter Martha Chapman, of Hartford, spent the week-end with her mother, Mrs. Mate Hunley.

Mr. Henry Shaffer is very low of diseases incident to old age. He cannot live long.

Misses Bessie and Annie Alford had a very pleasant visit to Caneyville during the holidays.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

We, the undersigned Committee on Resolutions, appointed at a call meeting of the county officials and members of the Ohio County Bar, held at the court house in Hartford, Ky., on December 30, 1915, for the purpose of paying tribute to the memory of Col. C. M. Barnett, report the following:

Col. C. M. Barnett was born in Ohio county, Ky., June 4, 1864. He was admitted to the Ohio County Bar in the year 1895; was a member of the Kentucky Legislature during its session of 1895-6, and Collector of the Port of Customs in the City of Louisville, Ky., during the years 1896 to 1905, inclusive, during which time he lived in that city. Prior to his removal to Louisville, he was editor of the Hartford Republican, and on his return to Hartford after the expiration of his term as Surveyor of Customs, he again became editor of this paper, which position he held until the date of his death, which occurred at the Forte Hospital in Nashville, Tenn., on Wednesday, December 29, 1915.

Col. Barnett was a man of high ideals, ever loyal and true to his friends, and possessed the talent and ability necessary as an excellent and forceful writer. He never devoted his entire time to the practice of the profession of the law, and while associated in the active practice of a number of important cases, both in the State and Federal Courts, he never acquired a large clientele. He was a careful, painstaking practitioner, and a good forensic speaker. Resolved, That we deeply deplore his death and extend to his family and friends our heartfelt sympathy; that these resolutions be ordered spread on the Order Book of the Ohio Circuit Court; that a copy be furnished to the family of the deceased, and a copy to each of the local papers for publication.

Respectfully submitted,

H. P. TAYLOR,
JNO. B. WILSON,
W. H. BARNES,
Committee.

1916
HAPPY NEW YEAR TO EVERYBODY!

Again it is a pleasure beyond expression that we can say to our host of loyal customers "Happy New Year to you," and we with equal emphasis extend it to everybody.

Old 1915 has dealt kindly with our great nation. While millions of human beings are engaged in the biggest and most terrible war in the history of the world, the dove of peace hovers over the Stars and Stripes and our peace-loving people are feeding the hungry and starving and transacting a large percentage of the business of the world. After all, in summing up the pleasure-producing elements of our daily existence, nothing contributes more to our happiness than the faithful discharge of our daily duties and our honest dealings one with another.

Our intentions with reference to our dealings with our customers have been actuated by the highest motives and any mistakes that have occurred have been purely of the head and not of the heart.

Customers, your loyal support lifts our hearts from their normal sphere and we gasp, to check an outward expression of our happiness.

When we look back and can count three generations of many, many families that have been every day loyal customers of this store, we are glad we are living and feel that our labors in behalf of our customers have not been in vain.

Customers And Friends!

This store is as much your store as it is ours and with a stalwart determination and an unrelenting energy we propose, as far as lies within us, to deal honest and fair with you, placing your interest and ours on an equality, making you co-partners in the happiness it merits and the ultimate success it attains. In the exercise of these prerogatives you have a measure of obligations to meet. Your honest effort in meeting these obligations will contribute largely to your happiness at the close of 1916.

We welcome the New Year, realizing that its opportunities and its possibilities are going to be largely the result of our undivided efforts. It will be according to your and my predetermined, honest effort, systematically and energetically prosecuted.

Your expressions and evidences of appreciation lighten our burdens and spur us on to higher and greater achievements.

Couple Your Efforts With Ours

in maintaining the prestige of this mammoth institution. We'll widen its usefulness to the community. We'll extend its benefits to hundreds of others and in the closing hour of this New Year we may be supremely happy in the benefits received as well as the good we have enabled others to enjoy.

With no dark spots on the retiring year, we extend good wishes to everybody for peace, happiness and prosperity during the New Year.

Your Obedient Servants,

E. P. Barnes & Bro.
